

What women have said about Annie's Project

This has been a great learning experience! The speakers were very knowledgeable.

Blount County, AL participant

I gained a lot of confidence about my ability to better manage my farm. I recommend Annie's Project for any woman who is working in agribusiness.

Cullman County, AL participant

I enjoyed the class and learned so much that will help me in my business. The networking with the other women was very valuable.

Blount County, AL participant

The Alabama Cooperative Extension System (Alabama A&M University and Auburn University) offers educational programs, materials, and equal opportunity employment to all people without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, veteran status, or disability.

Charles Stone Agricultural Center
819 Cook Avenue
Huntsville, AL 35801

Risk Management Education for Farm and Ranch Women

The mission of Annie's Project is to empower farm women to be better business partners through networks and by managing and organizing critical information.

Three sessions will be held from 10:00 AM-4:00 PM at the Charles Stone Agricultural Center 819 Cook Avenue Huntsville, AL 35801

The dates are Thursdays: February 11, 18, and 25, 2016

A light meal will be served.

Risk Management Education for Farm and Ranch Women

Annie's Project is designed especially for farm women to help them develop their management and decision-making skills for their farms. Sessions include brief presentations, discussions focused on the participant's questions, and computer training to use spreadsheets. Annie's Project gives farm women the opportunity to learn from female agricultural professionals and network with other women in similar situations.

Annie's Project is named in honor of Annette Kolhagen Fleck, a woman that lived near a small town in Illinois. She spent her lifetime learning how to become a better business partner with her husband.

Cost: $50 for all 3 sessions and includes meals, a notebook, and support materials.

Registration: Pre-registration is required online at: <https://goo.gl/9yMa7q> by February 9, 2016. Enrollment is limited to 25 participants.

Contact: Dr. Theresa Jones, Regional Extension Agent, at 256-509-5908, or email rosscth@aces.edu

Annie's Project provides education in production, price or market, financial, institutional and legal, and human and personal risk. At the end of seminars participants will —

- Understand personality types to communicate better with business partners
- Determine coverage levels for health, life, disability, and long-term care insurance
- Put family living expenses together with other costs of doing business on the farm
- Interpret balance sheets, income statements, and cash flow projections to make business decisions
- Learn new ways of marketing products
- Know what type business entity is best for her business
- Review Farm Service Agency deadlines and implications
- Review Natural Resource Conservation Service deadlines and implications
- Understand how assets are titled and learn about estate planning tools
- Have a better understanding of Business planning

Registration Form or online

Name: _____ Daytime phone: _____

Address: _____ Cell phone: _____

City, State, Zip: _____

E-mail _____
(E-mail addresses will only be used for Annie's Project communications.)

Make checks payable to:
Auburn University

Clip and return by February 9, 2016 with the $50 enrollment fee to
Theresa Jones, Charles Stone Agricultural Center
819 Cook Avenue
Huntsville, AL 35801